METHODIST CHILDREN'S HOME SOCIETY

OUR MISSION

Since 1917, Methodist Children's Home Society has provided individualized treatment, care, advocacy, and permanency to children and families impacted by childhood trauma.

OUR VISION

We strive to build a community where every child and family has a safer and brighter future.

CORE VALUES

- Celebrate the worth, diversity, and dignity of every youth and family.
- Work collectively together and through partnerships to provide the best care possible.
- Give voice to our youth and families who do not have a voice.
- Commit to results.
- Make a positive impact on our communities.

FINDING HOPE AT MCHS

"Sometimes I wish I could take a pencil and erase my life, just start over." And through his tears, Elliott took a deep breath and grabbed his trash bag, which was filled with all of his possessions, and started walking to his new cottage. His caseworker had told him he'd be going to a new home, called Methodist Children's Home Society, but he didn't care. At this point, his life had been a blur. A life of chaos. Always on the go and with no end in sight. At the tender age of eleven, Elliott was ready to give up.

The stories of our children shake you to the core: one child sexually abused multiple times before turning five years old and another who witnessed his mother overdose right in front of him. A third child, Andrew, was forced to sleep outside, wondering when his next meal would come. And a fourth child, Cassie, beaten within an inch of her life. Twice. And all of these children came to MCHS in desperate need of love and support to recover from their past. They were just four of the over 250 hurting children and families we served through our residential treatment, foster care, adoption, and independent living programs.

Last year was a remarkable one as MCHS served and cared for more children and families, launched its aftercare and mentoring programs, incorporated STEM in our education programming, and began developing new child abuse prevention programs for its new satellite location in Detroit. Recognized for being one of the best treatment centers in the country for children, MCHS achieved COA Accreditation. But most importantly, over 90% of our children who left our programs in 2018 found the safety, security, hope, and love of a family.

None of that was possible without our community. Like every year before, our success was built on the backbone of all of you, who through your time, energy, faith and support ensured that our children would recover from their past. Because of you, our children understand they are special and talented; that they didn't deserve the immense pain and hurt they survived. That theirs is a life filled with dignity and love with better days ahead. Because of your generosity last year, you gave hope and a better future to all of our children and families.

Elliott no longer needs a pencil to erase his life. These days, in our art club, he sketches, meticulously, drawing his future which includes the family he will be starting his new life with. No longer stumbling in darkness, Elliott has taken his first steps into the light with the therapy and care provided by MCHS. From Elliott as well as all of our children, thank you for giving the hope and future our children deserve.

THE POWER OF TONY'S STORY

He never should have been here. His life wasn't supposed to end up this way. Yet, here he was, about to turn 18 years old with nowhere to turn or anywhere to go.

After his mom died when he was just 11 years old, he went to live with his aunt. And for Tony, that was when his life began to unravel. Beaten and bruised, he entered the foster care system one year later. At a time when he was supposed to be looking forward to his adolescence, he was merely trying to survive it.

Going from one home to another, Tony struggled to keep his grades up and meet new friends. For him, what was the point as he'd soon find himself in a new home in a new neighborhood. And then one day, it got to be too much. Unwanted and unloved, at the tender age of 16 years old, Tony tried to take his own life.

For Tony, that was his breaking point. Or...maybe it was his starting point. After surviving his attempt and now with a new foster family, he slowly began putting his life back together. And as he approached his 18th birthday, where he'd no longer be in the foster care system, he knew he'd be on his own. That's when he found MCHS's Independent Living Program, a program uniquely designed to support youth who are aging out of the foster care system with life skills and preparation.

With guidance and support, Tony found a part-time job and caught up on his high school curriculum. He began enjoying his life, attending Pistons games and other enriching activities that youths his age enjoy. He even had his very own birthday cake – something he hadn't had since his mom was alive. For Tony, his sadness and despair turned into hope, confidence and dreams of a brighter future. He never should have been here. But thank goodness he was.

FROM OUR PAST TO OUR FUTURE

Methodist Children's Home Society began its journey in 1917, paving the way for so many children and families in crisis. As time moves forward, we recognized the need to evolve as well.

MCHS made huge progress in 2018 in developing new and innovative solutions to spread our reach farther, helping more children and families in need.

Addressing the need to have presence in Michigan's most underserved area, MCHS opens its first satellite office in Detroit in April 2019. The Detroit office focuses heavily on child abuse prevention and advocacy, fully equipped with a public resource bank in addition to offering proper child care classes.

MCHS is also set to break ground on our on-campus charter school in 2019 with the goal of opening doors to students for the 2020-21 school year. The school will have specialized curriculum for students who are victims of trauma, ensuring that each child gets the individualized care and education they deserve to succeed.
